Executive Practice & Healthcare Leadership Program Information

Research College of Nursing

Research College of Nursing is a small fully accredited private college specializing in quality nursing education since 1905. Currently the college offers both Bachelor of Science in Nursing (BSN) and Master of Science in Nursing (MSN) degrees. Research College began offering the Master of Science in Nursing degree in 1997. The MSN Program offers four graduate tracks at this time: Family Nurse Practitioner, Adult-Gerontological Nurse Practitioner, Executive Practice & Healthcare Leadership (EPHL), and Nurse Educator. The Executive Practice and Healthcare Leadership (EPHL) track prepares graduates to serve in executive leadership and management roles in diverse healthcare delivery systems.

Dear Preceptor,

Thank you for agreeing to serve as a preceptor for an Executive Practice and Healthcare Leadership (EPHL) student. The primary purpose of this program is preparing and developing nurse leaders to serve in a variety healthcare executive leadership roles. The EPHL track is offered entirely online. Students select a preceptor near their residence.

The final year of the EPHL track requires two practicum courses: NU 7210 Executive Nurse Practicum I (taken in the Spring Semester) and NU 7230 Executive Nurse Practicum II (taken the following Fall Semester). Each course consists of 15 weeks of student activity. The students are required to log 180 hours of practice-related leadership experience for the course. Students will spend roughly 8-10 hours a week with the preceptor and complete the remaining hours working on projects or in live clinical conferences.

One primary role of the preceptor is to ensure that the student has access to individuals across the organization who can assist them in learning about the topic for the learning module. Each of the courses has 7-8 learning modules. I send an email before each module begins outlining the content and assignments for the module. This email will also include any other special instructions for the students.

The student may also participate in activities that are available and designed by the preceptor, such as special meetings, projects, etc. Students are required to complete a major project each semester. The student will provide more information regarding that assignment after the beginning of each semester. The requirements for the project are broad so that the project can be tailored to the setting and the student's learning needs.

The student should assist with the completion of the preceptor packet and in answering other questions. I am also available to assist if you require additional information the student is unable to provide. At the beginning of the course, I will send introductory information including the course syllabus. At that time, I will also confirm the student has completed all health requirements and is ready to begin working with you. I typically request a mid-term phone conference with each preceptor. During the semester, I am available to you via telephone, email, or web conferences. There are typically no on-site visits because of the online format of the program attracts students from across the country.

Once the college receives your completed preceptor packet and supporting document, the college staff will determine if valid contract between your agency and the college exists. If not, the college staff will reach out to your organization's contact indicated on your information sheet to secure a contract.
